Present,

Daniel Brodhead, Sec. Gen.
John Hall, Secretary,
Francis Johnston, Reg. Gen. } of the Land office.

The petition of Thomas Stewardson on behalf of himself and the other trustees for the estate of Samuel Caldwell, surviving partner of James Meese, bearing date Philadelphia, 5th Month 17th 1799, stated as follows, viz. That a certain John Collins had in consequence of fraudulent deeds poll, obtained patents for two certain tracts of land, one situate in the county of Northumberland, surveyed to Samuel Caldwell in pursuance of a warrant dated in 1774; and the other situate now in Luzerne county, surveyed to said Caldwell by a warrant also dated in 1774—and requested that patents might be granted, for the said tracts, to William Crammond, Edward Tilghman, John Ashley, and Thomas Stewardson, trustees of the estate of Samuel Caldwell, surviving partner of James Meese, as the said two tracts were part of the estate of Meese and Caldwell.

Whereupon the Board having considered the same, ordered that at least sixty days notice be given in one of the Philadelphia newspapers, and in the Lancaster Journal to the said Collins or his assigns, to appear before the Board on the first Monday in October next, to shew cause if any he or they have, why patents should not issue for the said two tracts to the said trustees agreeably to the prayer of the said petition.

INDIAN DISCONTENTS.

The following serious Communication has been obligingly handed the Editor by a Merchant of this city—transmitted him by a gentleman at St. Mary's.

Point Petre, on St. Mary's, in Georgia, 15th June, 1799.

METHLOGY, second Chief of the Mackasooky Indians, inhabiting that part of the Creek land laying on the Frontier of East Florida, delivering the following to James Seagrove, capt. Nicholl being present during the Talk, which was explained by Robert Allen, Interpreter:

I COME by desire of the Great King of our Towns, and by the authority of all the principal Chiefs and Headmen of the same, to hold a conferance with you respecting some affairs which have occasioned alarm and uneasiness among our people; and as we have always considered you to be our friend, and you have promised our nation when you resigned your late appointment of Indian Agent, that you would at any time we required, give your advice to us when we stood in need of information.

We are now in want thereof, on account of a line which is running from the Mississippi towards the river St. Mary's and which line, from its course, will run through several of our towns. That I being informed only thirteen days past from the mouth of the Spanish officer commanding the Spanish garrison of St. Mark, near where I live, that there was a line now running by the Spanish people and the Americans, which line would run through several of the Indian towns, and that all of the Indians that fell on the Spanish side of the line, the men would be made slaves of to work the ground for the Spaniards, and their women and children would be kept and taken care of; and that all their land would be taken from them. That the said officer informed me that the Indians who fell into the American side would be served the same way.

That the Chiefs and people of the said Indians received a message from Colonel Hawkins, about six weeks past, by William Perriman, from Pensacola, desiring the attendance of Kinnijah the principal Chief, Thomas Perriman another chief and him (Methlogey) to attend at the running of the said lines as guides; but as they did not wish to see any line run through the lands, they did not attend. That having also heard from William Perriman, that while he was at Pensacola, about six or seven weeks past, there was a meeting in the town, of the people employed in running the line, at which was present Colonel Hawkins; that the Indian Chiefs who were there were all pointedly opposed to the lines running any further for the present, than where it then was, at the river Escombay, near Pensacola, except some of Cowetta Chiefs. That on the Chiefs refusing their consent to the lines progressing further Eastward, Colonel Hawkins declared the line should be run if it cost the United States one thousand men, and that making this declaration he went off in a rage towards the Cowette Town.

That from these extraordinary and unexpected declaratious from the Spanish officer and Colonal Hawkins, the Chiefs and Indian people are led to believe, that a plan is formed to rob them of their lands, and to make Slaves of them; to prevent which I am authorized to make known and declare as the voice of a very great majority of the Creek Indians, that they are determined sooner than submit to such treatment, to engage in a war against any nation or people, and sooner sacrifice their lives to a man, than be robbed of their lands, which is their only support.

That from all these alarms the Indians had become outrageous, and but for the advice of old and principle Chiefs, blood would have already been spilt, as the warriors were on the point of falling on the Spaniards; and also of going and driving off, or killing those people who were running the line, but from persuasion they were restrained until I could come down and see you to make these things known, and to get some satisfactory explanation to carry home, for which purpose I am allowed only twenty days.

That this is not a talk of what is commonly called the semanolos, it is the voice generally of the Creeks, but the other three great nations, namely the Uhicesaws, Chocktaws and Cherokees, that these four nations are all now united and were determited to support each other.

I am authorized to declare that it is the sincere desire of all my countrymen to live forever in peace with the people of the United States, and they wish that every difficulty and misunderstanding may be removed that is likly to disturb the peace or happiness of either. I am bound to declare that unless I can carry back to the nation a satisfactory explanation of matters, that in ten days after my return I think it will be impossible to prevent mischief being done.

Before I left home our towns had received talks from the other towns in the upper part of our nation, informing us, that the Tame or old Taleassee King had gone with three hundred warriors to send Colonel Hawkins out of the nation, and I am confident that there will be a war unless prevented by the news I may carry home. In consequence of my being sent here to have your opinion, runners were dispatched the same day I set off, all the Creeks Towns throughout the nation, to lay still until my return.

I have further to inform you, that the Indians in that part of the nation where I live, have not seen Colonel Hawkins, or any of his deputy's among them, or received any information from them respecting the line now running, until called on to attend as guides. That the Indians are in great ignorance of what is going forward or intended by the United States, respecting them. That it evidently appears to them, that Colonel Hawkins and his deputy Timothy Barnard, with others in his employ, take every means in their power of keeping the Indians in the dark by destroying every letter or paper they can lay their hands on, which they think can be of use to the Indians.

It is the wish of my nation, that the talk which I now deliver, may be made known to the President of the United States, as speedy as possible, and what answer I may get at the same time, may be immediately, known through the Creek land, as also to the other three nations. I have a great deal more that I could tell you of, but it being enjoined on me to return as speedily as possible, I hope you will dispatch me this day, with your answer, which is looked for with great anxiety by my nation in their present distracted situation.

The nation will let you hear from them on my getting home, and if your talk is favourable, I have no fear that we shall live in peace: I shall talk no more at present, and I am

Your friend and Brother,
METHLOGEY.

I certify, that the proceeding is a copy (in substance) of a talk delivered by Methlogey, an Indian Chief, in my presence this day, as interpreted by Robert Allen, to James Seagrove

(Signed)
A. Y. NICHOLL.
Capt 1st Regt. Artillery and Engineers.
Point Petre, 15th June, 1799.

I certify the preceeding to be a copy (in substance, and as nearly as possible in words) of a message delivered to me this day by Methlogey, an Indian chief, and that I have no reason to doubt of the truth of the same, having known this Chief, for several years, and always understood him to be as respectable among his people.

JAMES SEAGROVE.
Point Petre, 15th June, 1799.

The following is an exact copy of the Answer given to Mr. METHLOGEY, a Chief of the Creek Nation of Indians, to a Message delivered by him, in behalf of himself and his nation, to James Seagrove, at his house at Point Petre, on the River St. Mary's this day in presence of A. Y. Nicholl, Capt. in the army of the United States, and Commandant on the River St. Mary's.

June 15th 1799.

FRIEND AND BROTHER,

I have listened with attention to all that you have said, and as you have come a great way from home at the desire of your nation, to get my opinion, and advice upon matters which at this time appears to occasion much uneasiness to the people of your country—I shall therefore speak to you in the language of freeedom and truth; and the advice which I now give you, will be founded on pure disinterested principles of friendship for the inhabitants of the Creek land, and a desire of having them live in peace with the people of the United States.

BROTHER—It is now upwards of three years since I have declined all public employments: and it is my determination never again to enter into any, especially in the Indian Department. But I find from what you have just said, that there is a storm ready to burst, on the heads of innocent people of your country and mine; which to prevent ought to be the duty of every good man either in public or private life. And as I promised my Indian friends (when I parted with them) that whenever they see fit to call on me for advice, I would give it to them to the best of my understanding, and as that of one exceedingly desirous of supporting peace and good neighbourhood, between our respective countries.

You tell me that the boundary line which is now running by the Americans and Spaniards, from the Mississippi towards the St. Mary's occasions great alarm and uneasiness, in your nation; and you wish to have that business explained to you; This I will do in as brief and plain a manner as in my power.

Some years past the United States of America and the King of Spain made a Treaty there, by describing the territory of each other, and the privileges that the people of each nation should enjoy, without incroachment or injury to either party. This, my friend, you must allow was wise and just, and that without such being done, neighboring nations could not long enjoy the blessings of peace.

You and all the Creek people, must know, that the great river Mississippi, is the line between the Spanish and American settlements on the west side; and that the Spanish nation hath long, and still do possess the sea coast from the Mississippi river to St. Mary's It therefore became absolutely necessary, that it should be clearly, and well understood how far their territory or government extended back, from the sea coast into the country. For this purpose there is an article in the treaty made between the United States and Spain, which says, that a line shall begin on the Mississippi, at or near the Natches (or in more express terms) at the northernmost part of the 31st degree of north latitude, which line should run in an East direction, until it struck the Chatahouchee, and from thence to St. Mary's. In order to carry into effect this part of the treaty with Spain, it was thought advisable to make the Creek people acquainted therewith: for this and other purposes, a treaty was held at Coleraine, on the St. Mary's in June 1796, between the United States and the Creek nation, at which time and place, was present a greater number of Kings, and prinacipal Chiefs, then had ever been known at any former treaty; it was agreed by them, that the beforementioned line should be run, whenever the President of the United States, and the King of Spain should see fit, and that this agreement should not be forgot, an article was inserted in the said Treaty made at Coleraine, which is in the following words:

Article the 5th.—"Whenever the President of the United States of America and the King of Spain may deem it advisable to make the boundary line which separates their territories, the President shall give notice thereof to the Creek Chiefs, who will furnish two principal Chiefs, and twenty hunters, to accompany the persons employed on this business as hunters and guides from the Choctaw country, to the head of St. Mary's. The Chiefs shall each receive half a dollar per day, and the hunters one quarter per day, and ammunition, and a reasonable value for the meat delivered by them for the use of the persons on this service"

So that my friends, you see by the proceeding article entered into by your Nation, they agree to the running of this line, which now appears to create so much alarm and uneasiness among you. I have been told that several of your chiefs who signed said treaty (which now lays before me) whose names and characters well know, say that they knew nothing of it. This I am sorry to hear of my old friends who ought to have remembered what they have done, and who ought to have made the same known to all such of their countrymen as was not at the Treaty, and thereby, they would have prevented the uneasiness that has arisen from a want of matters being explained.

I was present at Coleram when your nation agreed to let this line be run, agreeable to our treaty with Spain; and if I had then supposed it possible, that the running of this line could in any way injure your nation, or endanger your land or property, I certainly should have made it known and guarded your Chiefs against it, it being my duty then so to do; but I do declare to you, and the whole of the Creek Nation, that I then and still do, consider the running of the said line, as quite harmless to your interests and purely intended to fix the line of territory and jurisdiction between the United States and the Spanish government.

Whoever tells your people, or endeavors to lead them astray from the opinion I now give you, cannot be your friends, and therefore must do it from ignorance, or what is worse, from a desire of seeing your nation involved in a ruinous war, which I pray God you may have wisdom and foresight, in time to discover and prevent such a calamity.

That your nation should be alarmed for their safety, after hearing such declarations from the Spanish officer at St. Mary's, and others, I do not at all wonder at: but as they are now fully and truly informed of this business, I hope they will act with wisdom, and make use of every endeavor and immediate exertion to prevent the smallest injury to any person either White or Red people.

From the experience I have had in the line of the Indian business, I can with the utmost confidence declare to the Creek people, that I know it to be the sincere and unalterable desire of the President, and every branch of the government of the United States, to preserve peace and good understanding with them, and all the Indian tribes, and to promote by every means in their power, their prosperity as a people. As also to preserve and guard their lands and property entire to them. And that the government of the United States never will take a foot of land from the Indians, without their own free will and consent being first obtained; Neither will they suffer any of their people to intrude on them, or in any respect injure them or their property, whilst the Indians continue to conduct with peace and friendship towards the United States.

From your Talk just delivered, and the same appearing to be the voice of the people of your towns, near to which it is expected the line will run; I find that you and they do not understand the real intent and meaning of this line, which truly is no more than in order (as I have said before) to ascertain the limits, to which the government and laws of the United States and Spain shall extend; and not with any view or intention of taking from any of the Indian tribes, one single foot of their lands. Another principal design of this line is to have it exactly known what Indians and Indian lands, are within the territory of the United States of America and Spain; in order that the Indians and their property, should receive such protection, and support from the nation within whose territory they may appear to be, as is stipulated by existing Treaties between the White people and the Indians.

From what I have said, I trust that my Creek friends will see that the line which gives them so much uneasiness, at this time is of no consequence to them. For what injury can such a line do them, when they can enjoy their lands on either side of it, as they have done when there was no such line.

When your old friends the English people lived in America, and the Spaniards in Florida, this same boundary line was agreed on between them, and was marked in all their treaties, and though it was not actually marked on the Trees, still it was marked in the papers of both nations, and by them well understood. I believe that on enquiry among your old people, you will find this to be the case. The line that is now about to be marked by the Spanith and American government, is merely to prevent at a future day, any misunderstanding, in not knowing how far the government of either extended, without having any view to lands.

Lines of a similar kind are established between all white nations, whereby wars and much injury is prevented. The Americans and English have marked such a line between their territories to the north; and that line runs through the lands of numerous tribes of Indians, who find not the smallest inconvenience therefrom.—These things I state to you, as further proofs that no harm can arise to the Creek Nation, from the line in question being run or marked.

It gives me great pain that any such uneasiness should have arisen in the minds of my Indian friends, whereby the peace and happiness of them, and the people of this country should be in danger. But from what has been said by me at this time, I hope all uneasiness and suspicion will be removed from their minds; and that they will act with temper, prudence and wisdom, and avoid thereby precipitating themselves, and their numerous offspring in a War with the white people, which you, and every Chief and Warrior in your land, must be sensible would end in their overthrow, and total ruin.

My friend, on your return home, it is my advice, that not a moment be lost, in dispatching runners to all parts of your Nation, to inform of this advice, and as given by a father to his Children, and enjoin on them, as they regard their future prosperity, that they will not be guilty of any rash act, or suffer blood to be spilt, which if once commenced, God only knows where it may end. According to your request, I will send off to morrow, an account of what hath taken place between us, to the President of the U. States, and also the Governor of Georgia.

I have no influence with, or authority over the people who are running the line, for I would recommend it them to go no further, until the opinion and pleasure of the President of the United States, should be known. But should these people continue to run and mark the line, it is my advice that your people do not hinder or disturb them in so doing, as it cannot hurt any body.

As to your complaints against Colonel Hawkins, the superintendant and his Deputies, it is a matter on which I can give no opinion, it being my sole object to endeavor to preserve peace between our countries and to avoid any thing personal.

Should your Nation receive the advice I now give them, with friendship, and adopt the same it will give me heart felt satisfaction and enable me in future, to subscribe myself their real friend, and devoted humble servant.

NEW YORK, July 10.

Capt. Sellers, arrived here yesterday, in 30 days from New Orleans, informs us, that GENERAL WILKINSON was at that port when he sailed, and intended to take his passage in the ship Paulina, of and for New-York, which was to sail in 4 days after him.

Capt Hillyer, arrived here yesterday from Cape De Verds, informs, that on Tuesday sen'night, off Montauk Point, east end of Long-Island, he heard a heavy firing, which lasted near three hours.

(The above agrees with the account published in yesterday's Advertiser, under the head of New Bedford, except that Capt. Barney saw the two ships.)

Yesterday arrived ship Lydia, Hillyer from Cape De Verdes, last from Nantucket, 36 days cargo salt, consigned to Isaac Hicks.

Left there, brig Betsy, Middling, from St. Sebastian, to sail for Philadelphia in 2 days.

Extract of a letter from St. Thomas, 24th June, 1799, to a mercantile house in this city.

"I have a letter from Dr. Stevens, of the 30th ult. from Cape Francois, who mentions in positive terms, that all matters were arranged with general Toussaint; that he had an interview with general Maitland, who was gone to Jamaica, and expected shortly to meet him again at Port au Prince. Every thing was settled betwixt them, so as to secure the Americans an uninterrupted commerce with the colony. Rigaud, however, was opposed to the measure; and 'tis not unlikely that he may occasion a defeat of the whole. Certain it is, that serious disputes exist between the two commanders, and there is no saying what may be the result."

A gentleman just arrived in town, informs us, that on Friday last, the United States ship Connecticut of 24 guns, Capt. M. Tryon, was upset in the harbour of Middleton, (Connecticut) in an attempt to careen her. It was expected she would be raised by this day, without any material injury.

[Amongst the many evils that arise from the predominance of newspapers over every other species of publication in America, it is not the least, that they become the almost exclusive records of many facts and circumstances, the importance of which demands frequent recurrence; thousands of things pass away in consequence and after a very short period, virtually cease to exist.

Fortunately, however, the grounds of this complaint do not uniformly exist; and instances sometimes occur, in which we are enabled by these very means to confound baseness and put villainy to the blush.

I was led to this remark, by observing in a file of old newspapers, printed by Citizen Francis Bailey, numerous anecdotes and biographical sketches of the life of that virtuous Republican The Honorable Thomas M'Kean, Esquire, Doctor of Laws. One of these I am about to rescue from oblivion a duty the more grateful at the present moment, as every trait of civism, which can add lustre to the character of this mild, humane, SOBER, upright and dignified man, whom we are about publicly to applaud or condemn, by the solemn voice of the whole commonwealth, may be said to belong to the public.]

To His Excellency the President and the Honorable the members of the Supreme Executive Council:

The petition of the subscribers

HUMBLY SHEWETH,

THAT your petitioners are much alarmed at a late proceeding of the supreme court of this state in the case of colonel Eleazer Oswald, against whom an attachment hath been awarded, and without any trial by jury he hath been condemned to fine and imprisonment by the court: that your petitioners cannot but consider it as unconstitutional and illegal to deny to a citizen of Pennsylvania the privilege of a trial by jury in any criminal prosecution, and subject him to the arbitrary discretion of the judges, by which he may suddenly and without time for preparation or defence, be hurried to a prison and destroyed: that your petitioners conceive that no man is safe if the judges at their will and pleasure may arrest a man upon a charge of contempt, and proceed to immediate punishment upon their own judgment as to law and fact: that if such proceedings are allowed, your petitioners apprehend that nothing can prevent the infamous proceedings of the star chamber of England from being revived in this country, it being the very grievance so highly complained of in that abominable court, that they proceeded by an arbitrary discretion, and frequently punished men with severity on frivolous pretences to gratify the malice of archbishop Laud, or some other member of the court: that your petitioners apprehend that the ninth section of the bill of rights of Pennsylvania was intended to secure to us the invaluable right of trial by jury in criminal cases, and to prevent such arbitrary proceeding as have been instituted in the case of colonel Oswald. Wherefor your petitioners pray, as the power of extending mercy and pardons is lodged with your excellency and your honors, that you will be graciously pleased to grant a pardon to the said Eleazer Oswald. And your petitioners will pray.

It is said that Macdonald, commander of the Sanculottish forces in the kingdom of Naples, is no other than the identical person who danced on the slack rope at the Circus, a few years ago. The present perilous condition of this nimble wight, it is conjectured, will amply call forth all his agility.

This day's Mails leave us still in the dark, with regard to the destination of the last fleet of France. The loyal need entertain no apprehension, however, let the wind blow them whithersoever it list.—Have the Spaniards joined them, all is yet very well—have they passed up the Mediterranean, still good—for, most assuredly they will never more behold the Pillars of Hercules. Have they flown on the wings of the wind, to Indus and the Ganges, still, all they can perform is at best but folly—they may inflict a wound, but can operate no respite to the gasping empire of Sansculottism from the irretrievable ruin, which even now perhaps is upon it.

The best advice to these mad-cap marauders, which the most sanguine friendship could dictate, might be conveyed in the words of Horace,

O! navis! quid agis?
Fortiter occupa portum!

The Island of Sicily, we think, may, with much appearance of probability, be conjectured to be the destination of the Sansculottish fleet, which lately sailed from Brest. The discomfited King had been able to withdraw thither very considerable treasures from the general wreck of the state—the Island abounds with every necessary of life—and its harbours are excellent and very safe: added to these circumstances, its defenceless state, its vicinity to the kingdom of Naples, where the French have so considerable a stake at hazard, concur in pointing out the Island of Sicily as a very probable object of the enterprize in hand.

Captain Smith, who carried out the Hassan Bashaw from this port, to the Dey of Algiers, has just returned to this city. Capt. S. left Gibraltar the 25th May. On the 23d, in his way from Algiers to that port, met six sail of British men-of-war, going to reinforce Earl St. Vincent's.

On the 25th a report was in circulation at Gibraltar, that six of the French ships of the line had been dismasted.

MR. FENNO,

I HAVE with concern observed several numbers in your paper, violently, and in my opinion improperly, censuring the Managers of the Alms-House and House of Employment; the attack must come from a source where jealousy, rivalship, or some other equally predominant passion of the mind, carried unfortunately to an intemperate degree, governs the man; otherwise I am confident he would not have taken so much pains unnecessarily to alarm the public by declaring the tax to be insupportable and what ought not to be submitted to. This, however, will have but little weight, as most of the citizens have taken pains to make themselves in some degree acquainted with that institution; they look upon it as of the first importance, whilst they believe it to be the most useful and benevolent in the United States. With respect to the objections made by the author of the attack (who is ashamed to give his name to the public) they may be answered in a few words.

The Error of £45 discovered in the manufacturing account published is admitted, although of little importance in the pending dispute, by a writer, under the signature of W.

In as simple a manner as possible to ascertain the actual expenditures of the Alms-House, for one year (as stated by W.) it is evident the average cost of each individual amounts only to one dollar per week the year through, notwithstanding the Managers of said house are obliged to pay at the rate of three dollars per week to the Pennsylvania Hospital for the maintenance of Maniacs, &c. sent to the latter, as they will not receive them on more favorable terms, which I have no doubt will be admitted by this anonymous writer, if he has any knowledge of the management of the Hospital, (of which there is but little doubt;) so that if the paupers are maintained at one third of the sum charged by another public institution, I should be glad to know how such insinuations and accusations as are thrown out by this spurious writer, can apply to the mismanagement of the Alms-House; for although the sum expended by the one House may be four times as great as that of the other, yet the number relieved are twelve times greater.

It must be confessed by every discerning person, that, instead of our city being infested by beggars, as was the case a few years ago, they are now comfortably maintained in this house, and it is an uncommon sight to see a beggar in the streets—at the same time it is admitted there are some cases where the benefits of the institution have been extended to persons not entitled to them, but such cases are few, and the censure more properly applies to the out door overseers, however, it is impossible at all times to prevent deception.

As to the product of the manufactures, and the evident declension of labour about which so much has been said, I will ask, how it can be expected a number of persons, brought to the Alms-House in consequence of the infirmities of old age, sickness, lameness or insanity, can be supposed to produce much by their labours, and I will venture to say there are not twenty men in the house at one time who are capable of work except occasionally to pick oakum, and that the decrease in the production of labor is in a great measure owing to the alterations which have taken place in the system; for as the number of hearty idle persons, able to do work, formerly admitted, were much more considerable than at present and for several years past, of course the manufactures were and ought to have been more extensive. The Alms House may now more properly be called an Infirmary, than a House of Employment.

I will only add that as every allowance ought to be made by a generous public, and no doubt will (the pains and assiduity of the writer alluded to, to the contrary notwithstanding) in consequence of the many drawbacks and disadvantages, under which the Institution has labored, by the dreadful yellow fever, which raged with great violence for two successive seasons, and consequently encreased the number of distressed and unhappy objects nearly in a two fold proportion, the conclusion is evident that the expences to the public have unavoidably augmented, and although the taxes for the last two years are greater than they were ever before, I believe the benevolent citizens of Philadelphia will not complain of the burthen, but rejoice at the happy success and noble purposes to which their money has been applied in relieving many of our miserable and unhappy fellow creatures. CHARITAS.

POSTSCRIPT.

A Letter from the Consul of the United States, at Gibraltar, of which the following is a Copy, was received this morning at the Office of the Secretary of State.

Gibraltar, 7th May, 1799.

SIR,

THE bearer of my last being still detained, I have now to inform you that on the 4th inst. arrived his Britannic Majesty's sloop of war Childers, in six days from the Channel Fleet, with advice of the French fleet, consisting of 15 sail of the line, having slipt out of Brest in a fog, unperceived. Said sloop met an English frigate, from whom she learned that she had been chased by the out scouts of an enemy's fleet of 19 sail of the line, supposed to be the above one, joined by 4 Spanish ships from Ferrol: they were seen in the latitude of Oporto. This the Earl St. Vincent communicated to me, that I might apprize the commanders of American vessels bound to the westward, of their danger. Admiral Lord Keith, with the British fleet of 14 sail of the line, was at anchor off Cadiz: on receipt of the above intelligence they got under way, and went for Cape St. Vincent. A French admiral and several officers arrived at Cadiz some days ago, to take the command of some of the Spanish ships; from which it is conjectured a junction of those fleets was in agitation. When the Childers left the Channel fleet it was proceeding for the Coast of Ireland.

On the evening of the 5th inst. the French fleet passed the Gut, going to the eastward, with a fresh southerly wind, and very hazy: 24 sail were counted, of which 19 of the line. Next morning Earl St. Vincent sent to inform me that the Americans bound to the westward should be ready to proceed the moment the wind came about, as the French fleet went past us yesterday. Open boats, &c. are sent to endeavor to get out of the Gut with dispatches to apprize Lord Keith of the French fleet having passed this, and to follow them.

I have the honor to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient and
Most humble servant,
JOHN GAVINO,

15th May.

On the 10th inst. Lord Keith, with his fleet, arrived here from off Cadiz. when Earl St. Vincent embarked, and they sailed next day with 16 sail of the line, of which six three deckers, for the east. It seems that Spain has given up to France 15 sail of the line at Cadiz; and by the report of several boats, 19 sail of the line from thence, with some frigates, passed this port to the east two nights ago. Several cutters in quest of the Brest fleet, and dispatches, &c. have arrived from England. Admiral Gardiner is expected off Cadiz with 15 sail of the line, which no doubt will go up the Mediterranean when they find the French and Spaniards are gone there.

Received by the Ship Adriana, captain Carlton, from London,

The Swift-Sure,

A NEW LINE OF STAGES,

NOW RUNNING BETWEEN

PHILADELPHIA & NEW-YORK,

By the short and pleasant road of Bustleton, Newtown, Scotch Plains, Springfield and Newark.

THE excellence of this road, the populousness of the country through which it passes, with sundry other advantages, which render it so far preferable to the Old Road through Bristol, Brunswick, &c. long ago suggested the propriety of its becoming the Grand Thorough-Fare from Philadelphia to New York. During the present year, a minute survey of it has been taken, and its superiority over the Old Road, both in winter and summer, has been clearly ascertained.—There are good bridges over all the other waters but the Delaware, and here the crossing is performed with great safety and in less than half the time required at the Trenton Ferry. The road is several miles shorter than the old road, but this is amongst the least of its advantages, because daily experience proves to us, that dispatch as well as comfort in travelling principally depend on the goodness of the road and the levelness of the country, and, in these respects, the New Road is, beyond all comparison, the best. It presents none of those rocky hills, which render the Old Road so fatiguing between the Delaware and Newark. The soil, too, for the greater part, is such as to produce but little mud in winter, and very little dust in summer, which circumstance, added to the beauty of the country, and a considerable proportion of shade, must always render travelling in the latter season peculiarly agreeable.

The Swift Sure starts from PHILADELPHIA, at 6 o'clock every morning (Sundays excepted) from the GREEN TREE, opposite the Lutheran Church, North Fourth street. It goes through Frankford to Bustleton, where it stops to Breakfast; from Bustletown it goes through Newtown to Penny town to dinner; from Penny town through Hopewell, Millstone, Bound brook, Quibbletown and Plainfield to Scotch Plains to lodge. The next morning it stops at Springfield to breakfast, from whence it goes through Newark and arrives at New-York at noon.

From NEW-YORK it starts at 3 o'clock in the afternoon (from Paulus Hook) and arrives at Philadelphia the next evening. For seats at New-York, application may be made to Edward Bardin, Old Coffee house, to A. Mathieu, corner of Nassau and John streets, to B. Many, no. 48, Courtlandt, corner of Greenwich street, and to Michael Little, at his hotel, no. 42, Broad street.

Fare for passengers, Five Dollars.
Way passengers 6 Cents per Mile.

Each passenger is allowed to take on 14lbs. of baggage carriage free; but all other baggage, taken on by a passenger, will be charged at 4 cents per pound weight.

With respect to packages sent on without passengers, the proprietors presume they have adopted a regulation, which, though unknown to other lines of stages, they think must meet with general approbation. They pledge themselves to make good every package on the following conditions. The person who delivers the package at the office shall see it entered in the stage-book, for which entry he shall pay 6 cents; he will then state the value of the package, and pay (exclusive of the carriage) one per cent. on the value, as insurance, and for which he will receive a receipt. Thus, for instance, if he estimates his package at one dollar, he will pay one cent, and if at one hundred dollars, he will pay one dollar insurance, and in like proportion for packages of any other value.

Very few persons it is presumed, will dislike this regulation; it will however, be optionable with every one to avail himself of this security or not. But the proprietors think it right to state very explicitly, that they will be responsible for the safe delivery of no package, which is not regularly entered, and for which an insurance receipt cannot be produced.

In the distribution of the route, the greatest care has been taken to fix on such places and taverns as always afford a good accommodation and entertainment for the passengers at the most reasonable rates. The stages are well equipped furnished with fleet and steady horses, and committed to the care of intelligent sober and obliging drivers. The proprietors themselves live at the different towns and villages where the stages will stop, so that the conduct of the persons they employ is continually an object of their attention.—They take care also to see that the passengers are well provided for and politely treated at the taverns, and that no sort of chicanery or insolence is practised upon them; in short, they have spared neither pains nor expence to render the SWIFT-SURE the very best line of stages in America.

The line has now run nearly a month, during which time a great number of gentlemen have gone through, both from Philadelphia and New-York. Every passenger has found the road to surpass very far all that has been said of its excellence; and the Proprietors of the Swift Sure are extremely happy to hear the behaviour of their drivers, and the treatment at Taverns, spoken of with the highest satisfaction.
